

I am very concerned about information that I've received, which states that Sinclair Broadcasting is choosing to make the dozens of stations they own air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election.

This is clearly a partisan attempt to sway voters and I strongly disagree that public airwaves used by Sinclair (without cost) should be used in this manner.

Clearly, their conglomerate could do a lot to damage the democratic process if they are allowed to make and go through with this decision.

Since the airwaves ARE public domain, please protect the rights of the public and don't let them air the program. Democracy isn't only about the rights of companies, but of all a nation's citizens.

Please keep the airwaves truly public and serving the people, not a distant and disinterested corporation. The airwaves are meant to educate the public on all sides of an issue or issues.

Anything that you can do to ensure that the public's rights are protected is essential as fewer and fewer companies have more and more say. Make the license renewal process a time of reckoning for Sinclair and companies like them.

Also, if the show is aired, I insist that equal time be given to a pro-Kerry broadcast.

Thank you, Judith Clonan-Smith
